

No. 659 Oct. 6th, 1973.
Every Monday.

VICTOR

Price
3p

THEY STOLE A GERMAN GENERAL

Early in 1944, during the Second World War, Major Paddy Leigh-Fermor parachuted onto the German-held island of Crete. His mission was to kidnap General Kreipe, the commander of the island.

BANG ON TARGET! BUT WHAT'S HAPPENED TO STAN MOSS? HE HASN'T JUMPED!

Major W.S. Moss had been beaten by the weather, so one night he landed by boat—

YOU'VE MADE IT AT LAST, STAN.

YES, PADDY! I NEVER THOUGHT I'D GET TO LAND.

Leigh-Fermor and Moss soon had the general under observation—

A RAID ON HIS VILLA IS OUT OF THE QUESTION SO OUR BEST CHANCE IS TO TACKLE HIM ON HIS WAY HOME.

AND THIS SEEMS A GOOD PLACE TO DO IT. THE CAR REALLY SLOWS DOWN AS IT COMES ROUND THAT BEND.

CONTINUED ON BACK PAGE